Unanimous Panel Vote for Blackmun

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved by a 16-0 vote today
President Nixon's nomination of Judge Harry A. Blackmun to be a Supreme Court Justice.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., told newsmen that a report recommending confirmation of the 61-year-old Rochester, Minn., judge will be filed in the Senate Thursday.

He said 48 hours had been granted for the filing of individual views, expected from both Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va.,
and Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

Byrd told newsmen that although he supports Blackmun's nomination, he would not have been his first choice. He said that, among others, he would have preferred Judge Clement
F. Haynsworth Jr., of South Carolina.

Haynsworth was one of two Southern judges nominated by Nixon for the year-old vacancy on the Supreme Court but rejected by the Senate. The other was Judge G. Harrold Carswell of Florida.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., was the only committee member whose vote was not immediately recorded. However, Eastland said that Tydings will be permitted to vote later and he expects the vote will be unanimous.

Indications were that the nomination would not be brought up for action in the Senate until the first of next week.

Blackmun has been a member of the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals since 1959.

A draft committee report to the Senate called Blackmun
"thoroughly qualified" and found no impropriety in his participation in four cases in which he had a stock interest.

No one testified in opposition to Blackmun during a three-hour hearing last Wednesday,
but the committee put off a vote
at the request of Sen. Robert C.
Byrd, D-W.Va., to allow members to study the record.

"His opinions appear to reflect judicial restraint, a respect for judicial precedent, and a recognition of the constitutional demarcation of authority between the judicial and legislative branches," Byrd said Monday in supporting the nomination.

Blackmun is President Nixon-on's third nominee to fill a high court vacancy created by the resignation of Abe Fortas a year ago. The Senate rejected nomination of Judge Clement F.
Haynsworth Jr., Greenville,
S.C., and Judge G. Harrold
Carswell, Tallahassee, Fla.
Haynsworth was criticized on ethics grounds, while Carswell's judicial record and racial views were questioned.

5% Benefit Hike in SS Clears Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation for a 5 per cent Social Security benefit increase—and a hike in payroll taxes—is on its way to the House.

The Ways and Means Committee decided on these and many other changes Monday and told its staff to draw up a bill.

Under its terms, the average single retired person next year would get $121.80 a month instead of $116; the average couple $205.80 instead of $196.

The tax increase would affect those earning more than $7,800—the present base for the payroll levy, which would be raised to $9,000.

The payroll tax rate, now 4.8
per cent on both employers and employees, is scheduled under existing law to go to 5.2 per cent.

This increase, coupled with the new enlarged base, means that the maximum paid by an employee would increase from this year's $374.40 to $468.

The 3.3 million widows—and dependent widowers—of covered workers would get a break.
At present their pension at 62 or older is 82½ per cent of the spouse's basic benefit. The bill would increase this to 100 per cent at 65.

The amount a retired person may earn without reduction in his pension would go up from $1,680 a year to $2,000.

The benefit increases mean a total of $1.7 billion for the 25.5
million Social Security beneficiaries.

Other liberalizations in the bill would provide an additional $2.2 billion. The payroll tax increase would bring in $2.5 billion—enough with existing sur-

Civil Rights Leaders Held for Weapons

COTTON PLANT, Ark. (AP) —
Three civil rights leaders were arrested here Monday on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

Police Chief W. B. Whitaker
of Cotton Plant said Rev. Cato
Brooks of Little Rock, Rev.
Roy C. Laird of Cotton Plant and Rev. Leverne Swain of North Little Rock were arrested for violation of a city ordinance. All are Negroes.

Whitaker said a caller told him three men were shooting guns off a bridge on Arkansas 38 and that he went to investigate. He said he stopped the men and found three pistols.

Whitaker also said the three were arrested by the Woodruff County sheriff's office on a state charge of shooting on a state highway. Sheriff Ed Hall could not be reached for details on the arrest and it was not known whether the three men had made bond at the jail at Augusta.

Brooks said last week that an organization called Community Organization Methods Build Absolute Teamwork (COMBAT) planned a march in Woodruff County later this month. Laird and Swain are also associated with COMBAT.

pluses, officials said, to finance
the changes.

The committee moved to control the spiraling cost of government health services. It provided a standard for doctors' fees
under medicare and medicaid.
These would be determined initially by deleting the highest 25 per cent of charges in a locality and accepting the highest remaining charge. Increases based on rising costs would be allowed beginning in 1972.

The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare would be charged with trying to work out a system of previously agreed charges with hospitals.

Persons eligible for medicare
would be allowed a new option, signing up for a comprehensive health service if they were in a locality where one exists. The government would pay the charges, up to 95 per cent of the cost of medicare.

Cease-Fire Offered by Israel

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan offered Egypt an "unconditional and unlimited" cease-fire Monday night but said Israel would not be driven from the banks of the Suez Canal by the Egyptians or the Russians.

"The government is ready to re-establish an unconditional and unlimited cease-fire even if this will enable Egypt to reorganize and put up SA3 missile sites," Dayan told a student rally in Haifa.

"We are willing to accept this cease-fire, because it would end
the war and open the corridor to some kind of an arrangement."

But Dayan vowed that Israel would maintain the cease-fire line at the canal and is "ready to fight physically to hold the ... lines even against Soviet aid."

"We shall work out a policy which will enable us to hold the lines and to refrain from any contact with the Soviets as far as possible," Dayan said.

The Israeli and U.S. governments reported last week that Soviet pilots now are flying with the Egyptian air force over the Nile Delta although not over the Suez Canal front. Asked why Israel had stopped its bombing attacks in the delta, Dayan said
the aim of "sowing death and destruction among the Egyptian army" had been achieved.

"At this stage," he added,
"with the entry of the Soviets,
we prefer to wait and see what we can do now."

He also said he wished the United States would face up to the Soviets in the Middle East like "a real tiger with biting teeth."

Former Vice President Hubert
H. Humphrey told a meeting of the Israel-American Friendship League in Tel Aviv that the United States should warn the Soviet Union it will not tolerate intervention against a friendly nation in the Middle East.

The United States should also "redress the arms balance in favor of Israel," Humphrey said. He is in Israel to accept an honorary degree Wednesday from the Weizman Institute of Science.

Mother's Day Observance at Washington

Mother's Day will be celebrated Sunday, May 10 at historic Washington, Arkansas.

The celebration will begin at 11:00 a.m. with special church services at the Washington Methodist Church. The Washington Methodist Church is the oldest Methodist Church in Arkansas and has been in its present building since 1861. As you enter the sanctuary, one of the original hand made pews can be seen.
The chancel rail and pulpit are original fixtures. There are Methodist Hymnals dating from around 1830. The old belfry bell was forged before the Civil War.

At noon free picnic tables will be set up in front of the old school house, which also serves as the Tourist Headquarters. The public is invited to bring their own picnic lunch and enjoy lunch out-of-doors.

A Garden Party, free to the public, will be held at 2:00 p.m.
at the famous Garland House.
This beautiful historic home is Washington's newest reconstructed historic site. It was the home

Greatest Stock Loss in 6 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market firmed today after slumping Monday to its biggest loss in more than six years.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at 11:30 a.m. showed a minor loss of 1.06 points to 713.50 after having been up 0.20 half an hour earlier.

This was encouraging to Wall Street, which on Monday saw the Dow average tumble 19.07 points in its sharpest loss since it fell 21.16 on Nov. 22, 1963, the day President Kennedy was assassinated.

Declines topped advances by a margin of about 2 to 1 among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Losers
swamped gainers by more than 6 to 1 Monday.

Trading was moderate.

Fair Until Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair and mild weather has continued to favor Arkansas with the exception of the northeast corner of the state where some scattered shower activity broke out late Monday.

The Weather Bureau said that a high pressure system which was centered over Texas
this morning would continue to control Arkansas weather through Wednesday.

The extended weather outlook called for showers to spread over the state Friday and Saturday, the bureau said. The weather was expected to remain fair until Friday.

Highs Monday ranged from 79
at Harrison, Texarkana and El Dorado, to 82 at Fort Smith.

Overnight lows included 46 at Fayetteville, 59 at Harrison, 56
at Pine Bluff, 59 at Jonesboro, 49 at El Dorado, 57 at Manuphis, 54 at Little Rock and 51
at Fort Smith.

Precipitation for the 24-hour period which ended at 7 a.m.
today included a trace at Jones-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In terms of longevity and steady performance, "Gunsmoke" is ranked with Red Skelton's and Ed Sullivan's shows as television's all-time most popular programs.

Skelton, now winding up his 19th season, has been counted among the top 20 shows in audience popularity for 15 years. Sullivan, in his 22 TV years, has been up there for 12 seasons.

"Gunsmoke" has made Nielsen's list of toppers eight of its 15 seasons. And the popularity of big Matt Dillon, Kitty and Doc—characters played by the same performers since the beginning—shows no signs of flagging.

Monday night's rerun, a rather typical hour, was a demonstration of its appeal. It was escape entertainment, a simple, uncomplicated action story. The villains were cruel, cold and unshaven. The hero was handsome, brave and a crack shot. There was an enormous amount of shooting before the happy ending.

ABC's series of minddocumentaries which have the umbrella title of "Now" came up Monday night with an illuminating, toothy short visit with Charles Evers in Fayette, Miss.

Subtitled "Black Mayor in Dixie," the half hour concentrated on Evers in his mayoral work day. He walked about his town, talked to his people and talked of poverty, of the need for true integration, of his efforts to bring new industry to the town. His biggest problem is that while whites of his community have not interfered, they have not helped his efforts.

The series suffers from its scheduling—late in the evening following a two-hour feature film.

Sometimes it seems that television's creative thinking moves in giant circles. Westerns were big for awhile, then this past season there were no new Westerns at all. There was a fantasy fad but by next season whimsy will be confined to two series. Doctor shows were popular, dried up, and are now coming back in force.

Milton Berle on a talk show last month maintained that his "Star Theatre" in the late 1940s and early 1950s was doing the same sort of fast and furious comedy that has made "Laugh-In" the nation's most popular show for the past two seasons.

"It's a great thrill indeed" to win, commented former Secretary of State Dean Acheson when he was informed he had been awarded the history prize for his book, "Present at the Creation; My Years in the State Department." He served in the Truman administration.

"Gandhi's Truth," an inquiry into the origins of Gandhi's theory of militant nonviolence by psychoanalyst Erik H. Erikson was granted the Pulitzer Prize in general nonfiction.

The prize in biography was won by T. Harry Williams for his book, "Huey Long;" and the poetry award was given to Richard Howard's "Untitled Subjects."

Charles Wuorinen won the music prize for "Time's Encomium," a composition on an electronic synthesizer; and Jean Stafford took the fiction award for her "Collected Stories."

Johnson Can't Get Recall Information

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell's office said today it could not provide Jim Johnson with information he sought about the recall of a U.S. senator because Johnson was not a public officeholder, but suggested that Secretary of State Kelly Bryant could supply the information.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Gibson wrote Johnson that there should be no difficulty in furnishing the information but that the attorney general's office would supply an official opinion if Bryant needed one.

Johnson had written Purcell a letter saying he had been asked to sponsor a recall drive against Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. He said he would not head the recall campaign because he ran an unsuccessful race against Fulbright in 1968.

TIMELY QUOTES

Man is not on his way to extinction. He can adapt to almost anything. I am sure that we can adapt to the dirt, pollution and noise of New York City and Chicago. That is the real tragedy—we can adapt to it. As we become adapted, we accept worse and worse conditions without realizing that a child born and raised in this environment has no chance of developing his total physical and mental potential.

Houston Nips Cubs With Bouton

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim Bouton is shooting for an "A" rating as a starting pitcher to go with his "X" rating as a beginning author.

Bouton, the outspoken Houston knuckleballer whose inside-baseball book, "Ball Four," should on the shelves next month, made two marks on the mound Monday night, taming the Chicago Cubs 7-2 with a six hitter.

In going the distance for the first time in four starts this spring, Bouton equaled his complete game total for last season, when he made 13 appearances.

DeBusschere, the Knicks' other big rebounder at forward, was one of a succession of players who took on the Lakers' Will Chamberlain at center. He sat out most of the last period with five fouls while the Knicks were making a comeback from a 53-40 halftime deficit.

But the Knicks had a basket of heroes—and one of them was Dave Stallworth, a reserve forward who played like an all-star center against Chamberlain.

Chamberlain got the message, too. Stallworth drove big Will to distraction with his fluid moves and picture-perfect shooting. He scored 10 points in the last 10 minutes as the Knicks climbed back from an 82-75 third-quarter deficit.

"I tried to keep moving around Will," said the 6-foot-7 Stallworth, who is four to five inches shorter than the Lakers' center. "I wanted to make him commit himself."

Cazzie Russell, another ace in the hole with six quick points, under the four-minute mark that gave New York a 101-94 lead, said, "It looked bad when Willis was taken out."

"But we just had to regroup ourselves and do the job," said Russell. "This game has to be the biggest thrill of my life."

Reed, the reason the Knicks have come this far, was with the team in spirit as he sat on the trainer's table in the locker room and listened to a play-by-play piped in by a speaker system.

"I couldn't hear the crowd through the door," he said, "but every time we did something right they must have gone wild."

The final figures told the story—the Lakers made 30 turnovers, 18 in the second half and Jerry West, the NBA's top scorer, scored 20 points, only four in the last half.

The Lakers also took only 66 shots in game, 26 in the last half.

"Twenty-six shots in a half?" West repeated in a subdued monotone "... why schoolyard players shoot better than that."

NBA Merger Delayed by Judge Tenney

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no merger of the National and American basketball associations, at least until a suit by player representatives of all NBA teams has been brought to trial.

The indefinite delay was assured Monday when Judge Charles H. Tenney of U.S. District Court signed a preliminary injunction order, superseding a temporary restraining granted last month by U.S. district court Judge Lloyd F. McMahon.

McMahon had ruled that a merger of the NBA and ABA raised "serious questions" of legality under the Sherman Anti-trust Act because it could eliminate competition for player talent.

At a hearing last Friday on the request granted Monday, Ira M. Millstein, the NBA players' lawyer, asked Judge Tenney to not "let them get into a non-competitive mentality."

NBA attorney Jacob Imber-

man countered, however, that the league would refrain from noncompetitive agreements until the issue was resolved.

Bob Warren Leads Stars Over Rockets

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "I was just skimming around all the way, just looking for that spot — and the shot," said Los Angeles Stars guard-turned-forward Bob Warren.

The shot was a 27-footer, a three-point basket that put Los Angeles ahead to stay late in their American Basketball Association playoff game Monday night against powerful Denver.

The surprising Stars then took advantage of a fourth-quarter slump to rip the Rockets 119-113 before 4,468 boisterous fans at the Anaheim Convention Center — the Stars' biggest home crowd of the 1969-70 season.

That gave Los Angeles a two-game-to-one advantage in their best-of-seven battle for the Western Division championship. The winner of the series, which resumes tonight in nearby Long Beach, will face the Eastern champ.

Indiana, the regular season's runaway leader in the East, holds a 2-1 edge in its playoff against Kentucky with Game No. 4 tonight in Louisville.

Denver won the West with ease while Los Angeles just did manage to squeeze into the fourth and final playoff berth by a single game.

The Stars dropped nine of 12 regular-season games to Dallas before upending the Chaps in six semifinal playoff games. Coincidentally, the Stars lost nine of 12 to the Rockets as well.

But Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman, who has been juggling an injury-riddled lineup and coming up with balanced attacks the past few weeks, commented after Monday night's game: "We're just getting stronger and stronger every game."

Mack Calvin's 31 points plus 28 by Warren—playing in place of injured rookie ace Willie Wise — and 24 by Craig Raymond highlighted the Stars' offense. But Sharman was more interested in their defense.

"Merv Jackson has been hurt four times this season and he's just coming around," Sharman said of his 6-foot-3, second-year guard. "But how about that second half he had?"

Jackson held high-scoring Larry Jones to just eight points in the final 24 minutes after the Denver guard hit for 22 in the opening half.

"Raymond's blocks and board work were outstanding, too," Sharman added. The Stars' pivot man couldn't keep Rocket center Spencer Haywood from collecting 37 points but he did slap down half a dozen Denver shots during Los Angeles' winning drive.

Cliff Richey Wins Atlanta Tournament

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An agile and aggressive Cliff Richey, pushing a relentless attack and making few errors on defense, has won the Atlanta Invitational Tennis Tournament here with a 6-2, 6-2, finals victory over Frank Froehling.

Richey, top-seeded in the tournament, broke Froehling's serve in the first game and stayed in control throughout, serving hard and staying on top of his opponent's shots for the victory.

Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., won $3,000 for his first place finish, while Froehling, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won $1,000.

The showdown between the two came off Monday after being postponed Sunday because of rain. Froehling, once ranked No. 2 by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, had said he was seeking a comeback and financing for two years on the professional tour.

Richey, ranked No. 3 by the USTA, said Froehling "didn't play as well as he can. I've been playing regularly and he hasn't."

In the doubles finals, Lenny Schloss and Turner Howard, both of Charlotte, N.C., won the title by defeating Crawford Henry and John Skogstad, both of Atlanta, 6-4, 8-6.

man countered, however, that the league would refrain from noncompetitive agreements until the issue was resolved.

Bowman Has Surprise for Bruins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The neatly typed press release announced new lineup changes which St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman had decided on for tonight's second game of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals against the Boston Bruins.

Nothing spectacular. Strictly routine. One of the changes, the release said, would be the use of veteran Glenn Hall in goal for the Blues. No big scoop there.

Jacques Plante had been the Blues' starter in Sunday's opener won by the Bruins 6-1. Five of Boston's goals had come after Plante was kayoed by a slapshot and replaced by rookie Ernie Wakely, who was playing in only his third playoff game ever.

With Hall, a veteran of a record 110 cup games available, logic seemed to point to him for game No. 2.

Logic pointed, but Bowman didn't. Scotty pulled the puck on his publicity department by announcing that Wakely would be back in the nets for tonight's second game in the best-of-seven series. Hall will have a comfortable seat on the end of the bench and Plante an even more comfortable bed in Jewish Hospital where he is recuperating satisfactorily from the concussion suffered when Fred Stanfield's slapshot cracked into his mask.

"You can't judge a goalie coming off the bench the way Wakely did," said Bowman. "Ernie played pretty well for us during the regular season. In fact, he didn't lose a game at home all season."

Unless, of course, you count Sunday's debacle when he came off the bench with the score tied 1-1 early in the second period and was beaten 79 seconds after he reached the ice on the second of John Bucyk's three goals.

That goal made it 2-1 and the Bruins broke the game open with four more in the third period by Wayne Carleton, Bucyk, Derek Sanderson, and Phil Esposito.

Part of the reason that Bowman switched to Wakely instead of Hall is that the veteran goalie plays well in Boston where games three and four are scheduled Thursday and Sunday. If a

Field of 15 Scheduled for Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dust Commander's five-length victory in the Kentucky derby hasn't yet had the effect of scarring off the opposition for the May 16 Preakness at Pimlico. A field of 12 to 15 seems possible for the $150,000-added preakness, second stop in the Triple Crown series, with as many as nine Derby horses likely to challenge Dust Commander again.

Only once since 1928 has there been as many as 12 entries in the Preakness, with the field ranging from six to 10 during the last seven years for the 1 3-16-mile classic.

Owner R. E. Lehmann was expected to decide today whether to have Dust Commander continue his quest of the Triple Crown—not accomplished since Citation in 1948.

Since the colt wasn't nominated for the Preakness, it would cost $10,000 to make him a supplemental entry — or $3,500 more than Lehmann paid for Dust Commander as a yearling.

Corn Off The Cob, seventh in the Derby, is the only one of top 10 finishers in the 17-horse Derby definitely out of the Preakness. Another possibility is Holy Land, who lost his rider at Louisville.

Sunny Tim, a two-time stakes winner this year who didn't go to the Derby, also has arrived at Pimlico and is considered a definite Preakness starter.

Other possibilities include Cut the Comedy, Hagley, Buskashid and Plenty Old.

My Dad George, runner-up in the Derby, is on the grounds, along with other Derby also-rans: Silent Screen and Robin's Bug.

Sunny Tim, owned by Calumet Farm which is boycotting the Derby in a dispute over the purse distribution following the controversial 1968 race, ran fifth in the Wood Memorial.

High Echelon and Personality, third and eighth in the Derby, will arrive next week, with trainer John Jacobs still considering a start for Personality this Saturday in the Withers Mile at Belmont.

Naskra, fourth in the Derby is due at Pimlico Saturday or Sunday while Native Royalty, ninth at Churchill Downs, was expected today.

Trainer Woods Garth plans to run both Hagley and Buskashid in the Withers. John Gaver will enter Cut The Comedy in the same race and said, "If he runs well, he'll be down for the Preakness."

A field of 12 would provide a record gross value of $199,800 for the Preakness, already the richest of the Triple Crown races.

The winner would get $147,300.

HHS Girl Softballers Win 10 to 7

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Yesterday afternoon the Hope High School Girls softball team outplayed Nashville almost all the way and made it their 1st victory against no losses, with a 10-7 score.

The next game scheduled is Saturday at Prescott, against the Gordon girls.

Hope led off in the first inning with 3 big runs, but by the end of the 2nd inning the score was tied at 4-0. During the 3rd and 4th innings Hope combined for 7 runs and then held on for the victory.

The winning pitcher was Debbie Moore while Terry O'Dell led the hitting with 4 hits.

Commission Subpoenaes James Best

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—James Best, a former investigator for the state Revenue Department who has been hospitalized for more than a week, has been subpoenaed to testify today before the state Racing Commission.

Guy Newcomb of Osceola, chairman of the Racing Commission, said the subpoena is for Best to appear at 10 a.m. or for the doctor treating him to appear at that time and make a statement concerning Best's condition.

The subpoena asks Best to bring all recordings and transcripts pertaining to his 1968 investigation of the West Memphis dog track operated by Southland Corp.

Best, from his hospital bed, said the subpoena was "politically inspired" by state Revenue Commissioner Bob Scott "for the purpose of attempting to humiliate and embarrass me."

"I think that if the Racing Commission was interested in any testimony I might be able to give they would have subpoenaed me at the first hearing," Best said.

"It seems to me the Racing commission should at least show me the courtesy until I'm released from the hospital," he said.

"I wish he was out of the hospital," Newcomb said. "I'm sorry to hear he's still ill. We're going to hear from him, sooner or later, before us or the legislative committee."

Newcomb said Best was the only person subpoenaed to appear before the commission. He said the commission had other persons testily at the legislative committee's hearings.

Newcomb said the subpoena was issued because remarks by Best in news media indicate that Best believes "he has something we ought to hear."

Best was subpoenaed to appear last week before a legislative committee but he entered the hospital a day before the hearing began. The legislative committee indicated it would

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University has been evacuated, and investigations by the Justice Department and National Guard officials have been launched, in the aftermath of the fatal shooting Monday of four students by National Guardsmen. The guardsmen were breaking up an antiwar demonstration. Eleven other students were wounded, four critically.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon says he hopes the fatal shooting of four Kent State University students will convince the nation's universities that they must stand against violence while maintaining the right of peaceful protest. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says the shootings prove his attacks on violent demonstrations and revolutionary politics have been justified.

New protests, strikes and demonstrations against U.S. involvement in Indochina have developed as students across the country react to the shooting deaths of four students during an antiwar protest.

SAIGON (AP)—Helicopters have ferried an estimated 6,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops into the jungled hills of northeast Cambodia for a new offensive to destroy North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps across the border from South Vietnam's central highlands. Initial reports said heavy ground fire met the first assault wave and it was diverted to another landing zone. Roughly equal numbers of American and South Vietnamese troops were involved.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four congressional committees have been invited to White House briefings today as President Nixon seeks to muffle rising congressional criticism of his war policy.

Alabama and Ohio hold primary elections today. The Alabama race between George C. Wallace and Gov. Albert Brewer for governor is considered significant to the future of Wallace's third party movement and the Ohio senatorial battle sets one stage in the Republican party's effort to capture control of the U.S. Senate.

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan has offered Egypt an "unconditional and unlimited" cease-fire but promises that Israel will not be driven from the Banks of the Suez Canal by the Egyptians or the Russians.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee votes today on the nomination of Judge Harry A. Blackmun to the Supreme Court with unanimous support a strong prospect.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With tests of various forms of government aid to church institution counting, the Supreme Court has approved tax exemptions for religiously used property by a 7-1 margin.

NEW YORK (AP)—Free-lance reporter Seymour M. Hersh has won the 1970 Pulitzer Prize in international reporting for his story on the alleged My Lai massacre. hear Best at a later date. Mrs. Donna Carella, secretary to Best at the Revenue Department, testified last week about three files in Best's investigation that she said were missing.

The subpoena called for Best to produce the three files — a summary of the investigation, a file on Sportservice Inc., concessionaire at Southland and a file Mrs. Carella said was a transcript of a tape that she said contained the voices of several persons.

"The investigation was instigated by Gov. Rockefeller and if there is such a tape in existence I am sure this tape along with all other documents pertaining to the Southland investigation are in the possession of Gov. Rockefeller," Best said. He said later that the governor had possession of "anything pertaining" to his investigation of Southland.

Best said he did not know when he would be released from the hospital, but that he was willing to testify to all he knew about Southland.

Longhorn Quarterback Censured

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—University of Texas football and baseball superstar James Street drew a public censure Monday from the Southwest Conference athletic council for an incident that left Baylor baseball coach Dutch Schroeder stretched out.

The faculty representatives said Street was guilty of "regrettable misconduct and undisciplined behavior" in the April 18 baseball game between Texas and Baylor.

The council also reprimanded and censured Tommy Harmon, the Longhorn catcher. Street was the quarterback who led the Longhorns to the national collegiate football championship last year and is also the top pitcher for the Texas baseball team. So far this year he holds a 12-0 conference record, including a perfect game.

The incident which caused the reprimand came on a squeeze play. The Baylor batter missed Street's pitch and Harmon tagged out a Baylor baserunner between third and home.

Schroeder, who was coaching at third base, rushed onto the field. He and Street collided. Several Baylor players charged at the time that Street hit Schroeder with a forearm. Street said the collision was accidental.

The faculty representatives, after two days of debate on the matter, said Street's "sharp bodily contact with the Baylor head coach, though apparently impulsive rather than deliberate, was reprehensible and a discredit to him, his team, his university and the Southwest Athletic Conference."

"A full consideration of the circumstances which immediately preceded the incident reveals that Texas catcher Tommy Harmon was guilty of an unnecessary hard tag of a baserunner that apparently triggered the deplorable developments."

A source inside the meeting told The Associated Press the Baylor faculty athletic committee had made a motion that Street be suspended from further athletic competition, but after a discussion, the group decided to substitute a reprimand.

In Austin, Street said, "I think it is embarrassing, the entire situation is embarrassing. Maybe too much has been said about it."

"I didn't intentionally hit Schroeder. I think it was a collision. I didn't run into him, and I don't say he ran into me. I didn't intentionally go after the coach. I felt, standing there, that he saw me. It really shocked me when there was a collision."

Frank Erwin, chairman of the University of Texas System board of regents, said in a statement that Street and Harmon "have the complete confidence and support of the board of regents of the UT System. They are good students, fine athletes and outstanding competitors. At a time when many of our young people are engaging in campus riots and disruptions, these two are young men in whom not only all Texans but all of the people of this country can take pride."

The faculty committee also decided to set up a study committee on another matter involving Street.

Street withdrew from school after the football season but prior to mid-term exams. He did not forfeit his baseball eligibility because of a special conference rule which allows a student to withdraw if his teachers say he is passing.

"The discussions brought up the matter of hardship cases should the rule be changed in any way and this led to the decision to appoint a study committee," Howard Grubbs, conference executive secretary, said.

Grubbs said the rule was at least 25 years old and had been used frequently by all schools. In other action, the faculty members admonished Texas baseball coach Cliff Gustafson for the "unsportsmanlike action of his two players."

"The conference expects the proper University of Texas authorities to assume responsibility in preventing a recurrence of such disturbing situations in the future."

The council also gave a general warning to all schools about incidents of player conflict in athletic events.

"Coaches are to be responsible for the conduct of themselves and of their players and the conference will assume a stern position in judicial action on all such situations in the future."

The council cited no particular incidents, but Grubbs said

Giants in 7-2 Victory Over Travs

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Amarillo's Giants ended their seven-game losing string with a 7-2 Texas League triumph over the Arkansas Travelers Monday night.

Bob DeLong limited the losers to five hits as Amarillo won its third game against 12 setbacks.

DeLong permitted only one hit after the fourth inning and retired 14 straight until Danny Napoleon singled with one out in the ninth.

Centerfielder Jim Howard led the Giants with four hits. Amarillo broke loose for two runs in the first inning, three in the fifth and two in the seventh. Five Arkansas miscues aided the Amarillo cause while the Giants played errorless ball.

Memphis expanded its lead in the Eastern Division of the Texas League to 7½ games with a 9-5 victory over Albuquerque. San Antonio second in the Eastern Division, lost to Dallas-Fort Worth 6-5. In other action, El Paso edged Shreveport 3-2.

Grim View Taken on Kent State

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he hopes the fatal shootings of four students at Kent State University in Ohio will convince the nation's universities that while they maintain the right of peaceful protest they must stand "just as strongly against the resort to violence."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said, meanwhile, he views the killing of the four students and the wounding of 11 others by National Guardsmen as proof his attacks on violent demonstrations and revolutionary politics have been justified.

"This should remind us all once again that when dissent turns to violence, it invites tragedy," Nixon said Monday in a prepared statement after the shootings by National Guardsmen on the Kent, Ohio, campus. "It is my hope that this tragic and unfortunate incident will strengthen the determination of all the nation's campuses, administrators, faculty and students alike, to stand firmly for the right which exists in this country of peaceful dissent and just as strongly against the resort to violence as a means of such expression," he said.

Agnew said the Kent State violence had been "predictable and avoidable" and the events of the day make self-evident the truth of his repeated attacks against militant dissent.

"For the first time in history a great nation is threatened not by those who have nothing—but by those who have almost everything," Agnew said in the prepared text he delivered to the American Retail Federation.

"As a nation we are strong enough to deal with the violent revolutionaries in the street, with those who want to seize power," Agnew said, declaring that his prepared remarks were entirely appropriate to the events of the day.

He castigated those he called "smug purveyors of mockery and scorn" and those politicians whom he said are "ready to endorse tumultuous confrontation as a substitute for debate."

"We have seen all too clearly that there are men—now in power in this country—who do not represent authority, who cannot cope with tradition, and who believe that the people of America are ready to support revolution as long as it is done with a cultured voice and a handsome profile," Agnew said. He said his remarks were directed toward New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay who said recently some elected officials do not respect dissent, cannot cope with turmoil and be-

topsy report wouldn't be completed for about a week.

Three students remained in critical condition today. One of them, Dean Kahler, of East Canton, Ohio, was paralyzed from the waist down, according to Paul Jacobs, administrator at Robinson Memorial Hospital in Ravenna.

Eight other persons, including two guardsmen were hospitalized. One of the two guardsmen was treated for shock and the other had collapsed from exhaustion.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, Ohio's largest newspaper, called editorially for "an immediate investigation and prompt steps to prevent a recurrence of the most tragic campus violence ever in the United States."

"Many questions will have to be answered: Why were these people shot? Who shot first? How could these deaths have been avoided?"

President Nixon deplored the campus deaths. In a White House statement, he said:

"This should remind us all once again that when dissent turns to violence it invites tragedy. It is my hope that this tragic and unfortunate incident will strengthen the determination of all the nation's campuses, administrators, faculty and students alike to stand firmly for the right which exists in this country of peaceful dissent and just as strongly against the resort to violence as a means of such expression."

The campus and the City of Kent were sealed off following the shootings.

School officials ordered the faculty, staff and 19,000 students to leave. Classes were suspended indefinitely by University President Robert L. White.

Later, Portage County Prosecutor Ronald Kane, armed with a court injunction, officially closed the university until further notice.

Nerve Americans are ready to support repression "as long as it is done with a quiet voice and a business suit."

Presidential press secretary Ronald Ziegler gave newsmen the Nixon statement and added: "The President, of course, shares the sadness of the parents of these young people and the sadness all Americans feel about these unnecessary deaths."

To a questioner who asked the President's views on the linking of campus disorders in the past few days to the United States incursion into Cambodia and the bombing of missile sites in North Vietnam, Ziegler said Nixon favors peaceful dissent and is against violence such as that at Kent State.

He went on to say that the presidential policy is to end the conflict.

Nixon Calls in Congress Committees

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and top administration officials gave members of two congressional committees an optimistic report today on the progress of U.S. operations in Cambodia.

"It's going right well," Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee told reporters after the session at the White House. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield asked if the Cambodian operation is going well, replied, "They seemed to think it is."

The Montana Democrat added that he heard nothing at the White House to relieve his sense of depression and unhappiness at the events of the past week.

Senate and House leaders of both parties went to the White House along with members of the Armed Services committees of the two houses. A similar session was scheduled late in the day for Senate and House committees dealing with foreign policy.

Others present included Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, and Henry A. Kissinger, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Meanwhile, a movement developed among Republican members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to return temporarily to that panel a resolution repealing the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution.

The reason was inclusion of language critical of Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops to Cambodia. Some committee members said they had not known this would be included in the report.

Mansfield said debate on the Tonkin repealer—scheduled to start today or Wednesday—is expected to be put off until next week.

As Nixon made his moves with Congress, violence marred antiwar demonstrations sweeping campuses nationwide since Nixon's decision last week to send U.S. ground troops into Cambodia. At Kent State University in Ohio, four students were killed by National Guardsmen during an antiwar rally in which officials said snipers fired on the troops. Twelve persons were injured.

At the White House, Nixon said the killings should remind everyone that "when dissent turns to violence it invites tragedy."

The White House said a Justice Department probe into the deaths is a possibility. In Washington, there was a brief demonstration at the White House and the George Washington Law School Student Bar Association called for a national day of mourning for the slain students.

At the University of Maryland, guardsmen used tear gas to break up disorders that broke out after students occupied the administration building.

Hundreds of students at other colleges boycotted classes in protest of the war and plans were made for student-faculty strikes today and Wednesday.

Also Monday the Pentagon called a halt to a series of recent heavy air strikes directed at North Vietnamese missile and anti-aircraft batteries and supply complexes.

But the Pentagon coupled the announcement with a warning the air attacks might be resumed. The sorties were authorized as "protective reaction" measures designed to safeguard American reconnaissance planes flying over North Vietnam, Defense officials said.

The announcement came at about the same time Soviet Premier Kosygin lashed out at the North Vietnam raids and the U.S. incursion into Cambodia.

"By launching the war in Cambodia and resuming large-scale barbarous bombings of populated localities in South Vietnam, President Nixon assumes the lines of his predecessor, President Johnson, on the termination from November 1968, of all air bombings and other actions involving the use of force against North Vietnam," Kosygin said in a rare Moscow press conference.

Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin said the air missions "are essential to the safety of our forces in South Vietnam. This fact was made clear to the North Vietnamese at the time the bombing was halted in

Young Doctor Who Lost Leg Works From a Wheel-Chair

MIAMI (AP) — When Dr. Stephen Halpert examines a patient, the patient is the one holding the stethoscope and the doctor is the one in the wheel-chair. Both of Halpert's arms and both legs have been paralyzed since 1967, when a cervical vertebrae was crushed in a collision between his motorcycle and a tractor.

Halpert then was a student at the University of Florida College of Medicine.

"I knew I wanted to be a doctor before the accident and it was just a matter of going back and studying academically and knowing my limits," he said in an interview.

He got his degree last December.

Picturesque in flowing black beard and flashy shirt, Halpert, now 26, makes his rounds as an intern in the family service section of Jackson Memorial Hospital's emergency ward at the controls of an electric wheel chair.

He has limited use of his hands and can take notes. The patients help him by manipulating instruments such as the stethoscope, which they hold against their chests while he listens.

Halpert's specialties are diagnosis and preoperative and post-operative care.

Wells Thinks of Race for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bill Wells of Hermitage, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Lieutenant governor in 1968, said Monday night on television that he wanted to be governor "some day" and that he was considering making the race this year.

Wells said he had intended to seek the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant governor again this year, but added, "I cannot ignore the fact that thousands of you have asked me to run for the office of governor."

During the 30-minute telecast, Wells urged the people to join him in solving a variety of state problems.

Wells also criticized the administration of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Wells quoted from a 1966 speech by Rockefeller in which he quoted the governor as saying he did not contemplate any new taxes at the time.

"You know the story after that," Wells said.

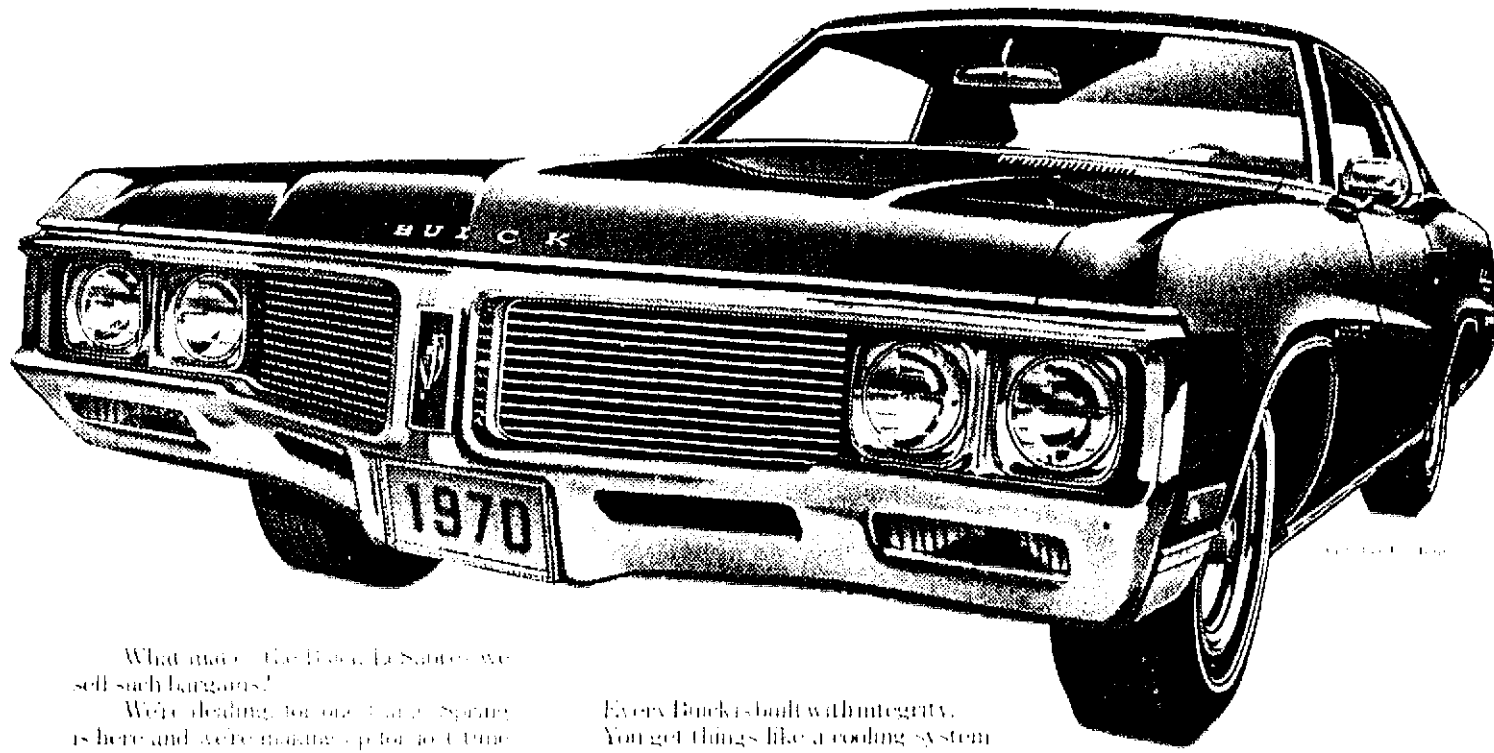

Wells said natural growth of the state and action by the legislature had increased the state's revenue about $8 million a month.

"It seems we should be able to expand services but this has not been the case," he said. "It should not be (this way). There is a great deal of waste in state government today."

Wells told the television audience that the state faces problems in the areas of finance, industrial development, education and penal reform.

He also said he was opposed to busing of students to achieve racial balance in schools.

Rules Coin Toss Legal in Playoffs

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer up the ball and took his familiar stance on the 15th hole—the first extra hole in the sudden-death play off with Jack Nicklaus for the $20,000 first prize in the Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

“Palmer is hitting first because he had a four on the last hole and Nicklaus had a five—it’s Arnie’s honor,” the television announcer announced blandly.

Palmer wagged his club a few times, and then another voice came over the air waves: “Palmer is hitting first,” the announcer at the scene reported, “because they tossed a coin for the honor. Nicklaus won and elected to hit second.”

It sounded like—the start of a football game. “Electing to kick off . . . and receiving, with the wind to its back . . .”

This was one of the little interludes that passed almost unnoticed—though it planted a small seed of curiosity—in the tense Nicklaus-Palmer head-to-head battle Sunday at Dallas, won by Nicklaus on the first extra hole.

“I never heard of anything like this in my life,” said Fred Corcoran, executive director of the International Golf Association and once whip-hand of the PGA Tour.

“If a player winning the honor can elect to hit second, what is to prevent him from choosing whether he wants to hit first or second in a regular match or tournament?”

The knotty issue was tossed into the lap of Joseph C. Dey Jr., the new pro golf commissioner, who is paid a comfortable salary to resolve such things.

“The coin toss was necessary because, with the completion of the regular 72 holes, the playoff became a match-play event,” Dey explained. “The toss is customary in playoffs.”

“I grant that it was unusual for Nicklaus to choose to drive second but he had his choice. Normally, I think a man would elect to drive off first.”

Might this lead to a change in the long-standing tradition that awards the honor of hitting off first to the player with the lowest score on the previous hole?

“I don’t think so,” Dey replied. “The so-called ‘honor’ in golf is deeply rooted. It’s supposed to be an honor to strike the ball first. Mrs. Margaret Curtis, who won many of our women’s championships and who founded the Curtis Cup, always contended that the player winning a hole should have a choice on the next hole.

“It never took. Hitting first is an act of aggression. It’s intended to put the heat on the opponent. I think those preferring to hit second would be a definite minority.”

“I am also convinced that had Palmer won the toss at Dallas, being a very aggressive person, he would have chosen to drive first.”

Palmer drove first. Nicklaus came up next and outdrove him. Palmer, pressing, hit a drive from the fairway, half-hit the shot and was short. Nicklaus was flag high to the left. He got down in two for a birdie four.

The late Tony Lema and Nicklaus came to the final hole of the Buick Open in 1965 all tied and with Nicklaus holding the honor. Jack punched his tee shot out of bounds. Lema put his driver back in the bag and took out a brassie, deciding to play safe.

“It was a break to hit second,” Tony said afterward.

Golfers sometimes “go to school”—as the expression goes—on their opponents, profiting from watching an opponent’s shot. The late Horton Smith often stood behind his adversaries and took note of what club they used.

Yet Walter Hagen, in his celebrated challenge match against Bob Jones in 1928, drove with a brassie in order to hit first with his second shot, the idea being to “psych” Jones with a great approach. Hagen won the match 12 and 11.

“Most players are anxious to put the pressure on their opponents,” Dey said. “They like to attack. Few find it advantageous to lie back.”

SS Rules on Disabled Children

What social security protection is provided for people born disabled or those who become disabled before they are old enough to work? Otis A. Blackwood, social security manager, gave the following response to that question:

People born disabled or who became disabled before their 18th birthday are eligible for social security benefits on the record of their working parent when he dies or becomes entitled to benefits. If both parents work, their child is potentially eligible on both records but he can only receive benefits on one.

The Social Security Administration refers to these beneficiaries as disabled adult children because their benefits are the same as those paid children under 18.

For example, take the case of a child we call Earnie. Earnie was born with a brain injury so severe he was never able to work. His parents have continued to care for him all his life and even though Earnie is in an institution most of the time, they are responsible for his care.

When Earnie’s father retires and becomes eligible for social security benefits, Earnie will receive social security benefits, too, because his disability began before his 18th birthday. The same would be true if Earnie’s father became disabled or died. Earnie’s age is not a factor because his disability began in childhood.

Disability for social security purposes is defined as a mental or physical condition so severe it prevents the person from doing any substantial work. The condition must be one which shows up in medical records and tests. In the case of a disabled adult child, the records must also show the condition began before age 18.

Your nearest social security office can give you all the details on these benefits and can help you apply for them.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Dr. David Livingstone was a Scottish missionary and explorer. The World Almanac says Henry M. Stanley, a correspondent for the New York Herald, was sent to Africa "to go and find Livingstone," from whom no word had come in two years. Stanley located him Nov. 10, 1871, at Ujiji, introducing himself with the greeting, "Dr. Livingstone, I presume?" The doctor died May 1, 1873, after about 33 years service in Africa.

TIMELY QUOTES

An act of vandalism is a direct communication from the vandal to the rest of society and expresses conflict between the vandal and the property owner.

—Dr. John M. Martin, professor of sociology at Fordham University, disagreeing with the most common response to vandalism that it is "senseless" or "there's no reason for it."

| Opening lead—♦ Q       |       |           |

When you pull trumps, no one is going to ruff any of your high cards but you won't be able to use any of the trumps you have played out to ruff enemy high cards. If you have trumps to spare, this shouldn't worry you; when you don't have trumps to spare, it should.

North's raise to two hearts meets with our full approval. Once in awhile, this bid will lose you a spade fit but most of the time it leads to the right final contract in hearts.

South might well have jumped right to four hearts but he was an optimist and tried a three-club call to see if he could strike up some slam interest. When North merely bid three hearts, South settled for game.

South looked over dummy and saw that he could afford two trump leads. Should he trump break 3-2. Then he would wind up losing one trump and two diamonds. What about a 4-1 trump break? Could he guard against it? Yes, he could.

South ducked the first diamond and won the second. Then he cashed dummy's king of trumps and his own three top clubs to get rid of dummy's last diamond. Now he ruffed a diamond, played ace of spades, ruffed a spade, ruffed his last club with dummy's last trump and wound up losing two trumps in addition to the diamond he had lost at trick one.

We aren't going to claim that South's line of play was outstanding. There are other lines that would have worked also and plenty of lines that would have left South in the soup. The real point is that South could not afford to draw two rounds of trumps.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

♥♦CARD Sense♠

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 2 ♦ 2 ♥ 1 ♠
Pass 3 ♦ Pass Pass
3 ♥ Pass Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ A K 10 8 7 ♥ 2 ♦ 8 3 ♣ K J 7 5

What do you do now?

A—Bid four diamonds. You don't expect to be hurt there and you are willing to defend against a heart game if your opponents bid it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three diamonds your partner has bid two spades over East's two hearts. What do you do now?

Worm's Poison

The 1,000-legged worm of tropical America manufactures prussic acid in its body. It has glands along the sides of its body that are so-charged and uses this acid in capturing and killing its prey.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Humidify Indoor Air To Help Avoid Dry Skin

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—For a long time, my son and I have had dry skin. Could it be caused by soap or some vitamin deficiency? What do you advise?

A—Dry skin is usually more of a problem in winter than in summer, especially in persons who fail to humidify the indoor air in cold weather. You should bathe in lukewarm (not hot) water and use very little soap. Bathing twice a week rather than daily will help and, instead of rubbing yourself dry, use your towel to pat or fan yourself dry. A very thin coat of cold cream before retiring will help to prevent dryness. Vitamins A and B are essential for a healthy skin but it is doubtful that your dry skin is caused by a deficiency of these vitamins.

doesn't shrink in a month or so and if it's that important to you, your best bet is to consult a plastic surgeon.

Q—I am a Negro woman, 22. I have several burn and scratch marks on my face and legs. Is there any way to remove them?

A—Using masking cosmetics is the simplest way to make the marks inconspicuous. The only way to remove them is to have a skin graft.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

QUICK QUIZ

BLONDIE

Q—Are any American oaks evergreen?

A—The live oak that grows along the southeastern coast of the United States is a beautiful evergreen oak. It is the state tree of Georgia.

Q—What industry gave the term "double-header" to baseball?

A—Railroading. In railroading, "double-header" means two engines on a single train. Hence, in baseball, a "double-header" is two games on a single afternoon.

Fist In The Face

"Your right to shake your fist ends where the other fellow's nose begins."

This maxim is often quoted by lawyers to illustrate that there are limits to each person's freedom. And the maxim is true enough, as far as it goes.

But it leaves out the fact that simply shaking your fist may also be unlawful, even before it reaches the other fellow's nose. If your fist is sufficiently menacing, you would be committing an "assault," for which the victim is entitled to damages.

The word "assault" is frequently joined with "battery" in the phrase "assault and battery." They are, however, two different things. An assault is the mere threat of bodily harm—a mental injury. A battery is the harm itself—a physical injury.

True, the threat doesn't amount to an assault unless it comes close to being carried out—that is, close to becoming a battery. Otherwise, the law treats the threat as empty bluster, not hurtful enough to be considered unlawful. Take this case:

An irate telephone caller, losing patience with the operator, cried:

"If I were there, I would break your neck."

Assault? A court said no, because—with plenty of distance between the two parties and with an "if" in the threat—it was not menacing enough to support a claim.

Even when the parties are face-to-face, the law won't protect the Nervous Nellie who sees danger where most people would see none. In another case, during an argument, a man shook his finger at a woman seated eight feet away. She sued him for assault, but the court turned her down. The judge said it was foolish of her to be frightened by such an innocuous gesture.

What if there is no danger in fact, but the person has good reason to believe that there is? Suppose, for instance, that A points his gun at B. A knows the gun is empty, but B thinks it is loaded. In such circumstances, most courts have held that A has indeed assaulted B, just as if the gun were really loaded.

"(B's) suffering," a judge observed, "is the same in the one case as in the other."

4-Year-Old Killed by Car

STRAWBERRY, Ark. (AP)—Kevin Wilson, 4, of Lynn (Lawrence County) was struck and killed Monday on Arkansas 25 inside the city limits of Saffell, about five miles south of here. State Police said the child was struck by a vehicle driven by Barbara Young, 31, of Lynn.

Pruitt's Extradition Is Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — O. H. Storey III, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's aide on prison affairs, said Monday he had asked that Robert L. Pruitt be extradited from Arizona to Arkansas.

Storey said he had sent the request and the extradition papers to Arizona Gov. Jack Williams. Pruitt, former head cashier at State College of Arkansas at Conway, was charged April 17 on four counts of embezzling $28,655 from the college over a nine-month period beginning early in 1969. Pruitt, 30, resigned from SCA Feb. 6 and moved to Phoenix, Ariz. His bond has been set in Arizona at $1,000 and he has refused to waive extradition.

Deadline for Recall Is July 3

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Monday that a petition seeking to place the issue of recalling Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., on the November ballot must be turned in by July 3.

The information went to Jim Johnson of Conway who says he has agreed to help those wanting to recall Fulbright.

Johnson had asked the attorney general's office for an opinion, but the office told Johnson Monday morning that it could not provide the information because Johnson was not a public officeholder.

The office said, however, that Johnson could get the information from Bryant's office. Mrs. Connie Alber, an assistant to Johnson, went to Bryant's office and that Bryant told her that a letter of intent to recall must be filed by June 3.

Mrs. Alber said 8 per cent of the total vote in the last general election, or 49,248 signatures, would be needed on the recall petitions.

Johnson said he would make a statement Wednesday concerning the recall.

Settlement of Doctor Suits Sought

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Allan W. Horne said Monday he would appoint a steering committee to study the creation of a board that hopefully could bring doctors and patients together in efforts to reach out-of-court settlements of malpractice complaints.

Horne met Monday with representatives of three companies that write malpractice insurance in Arkansas, the Arkansas Medical Society and the Arkansas Bar Association to discuss forming such a board.

The commissioner said that neither the doctor nor the patient would be bound by the findings of the proposed board. "It would exist really at the sufferance of the parties," Horne said.

Horne said it was hoped that the costs involved in trying malpractice suits in court would be reduced by the board's recommendations. He said that in 1968 there was a rate increase of about 150 per cent in malpractice insurance for physicians and surgeons and that a request for another 20 per cent increase was pending in his office now.

"The problem is not as critical in Arkansas as it is in other states, but we are trying to prevent it from being critical," Horne said.

4 Indicted in F-111 Case Surrender

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four more persons, charged with conspiracy to pass defective parts in connection with the construction of the controversial F-111 jet airplane, surrendered to federal authorities Monday.

The four were Harry C. Bass Jr., 55, president of Selb Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge, Ark.; Kenneth W. Hunn, 49, vice president of Blades Manufacturing Co. of Rector, Ark.; Melvin C. Davis, 41, plan manager for Selb, and Steven C. Fischer, 27, assistant to the president of Blades and Selb and in charge of public relations for both firms. They were released on $2,500 bond each.

Neuman L. Johnson of Fort Worth, chief of outside production for General Dynamics, builder of the F-111, and James L. Townley of Hurst, Tex., a former quality assurance superintendent for General Dynamics, surrendered to federal authorities in Texas Friday. Both were released on $2,500 bonds.

The 16-count federal indictment returned here Thursday also named Joseph Roy Spear, a vendor quality control representative of General Dynamics, Spear posted $2,500 bond Monday with U.S. Commissioner Clyde Emery of Dallas, Tex. Spear was General Dynamics' resident inspector at Selb Manufacturing, Blades and Aircraft Engineering Corp. The indictment said Blades and Aircraft Engineers performed part of the manufacturing under purchase orders to Selb.

The men and the Selb firm were accused in the indictment of conspiracy and fraud in connection with parts produced, inspected and delivered

PROLONG LIFE OF YARD FURNITURE

By MR. FIX

Material that is both durable and easy to repair has made summer furniture a long-term investment. Aluminum, redwood, painted steel and plastics are fairly weatherproof. But there are still things the home handyman can do to add many seasons to their usefulness.

It's a good idea to check over your summer furniture and remove it from winter storage well before hot weather sets in.

Each piece will at least need dusting. Most will need washing. Detergent and water will work well for plastic, wood and painted metal. Scrub with a stiff brush. Aluminum may need more than this if badly pitted. In such case, rub with fine steel wool.

Any metal furniture that shows signs of rust should be cleaned thoroughly with a wire brush and then steel wool.

While you are cleaning is the time to check the condition of the furniture. The joints may be loose, legs wobble. It's a simple matter to tighten nuts and bolts as you go along.

If screws or bolts are rusted or if the threads are stripped, then replace them with new ones. Use corrosion-resistant fasteners—plated steel for steel furniture, aluminum for aluminum.

for the F-111 aircraft. Selb was a subcontractor for General Dynamics.

The indictment alleges that Bass, Hunn, Davis and Fischer gave Spear, Townley and "other employees of General Dynamics Corp." gifts "for the purpose of influencing and inducing favorable determinations by the employees as to the acceptance or rejection of parts containing unauthorized weld repairs as well as other discrepancies."

The indictment alleged that Spear received $100 from Selb on one occasion and $450 at another time that year. The indictment also said Bass paid a $2,150 note on a 1968 automobile for Townley.

The indictment said the defendants would place new serial numbers on parts that had previously been rejected by the Material Review Board of General Dynamics, and then would send the parts back through the inspection process to be purchased by the firm as new parts.

The grand jury charged that the defendants would weld and cause to be welded many of the parts in an effort to cover up a deficient part. The indictment said this was done without proper authority from the review board.

Four employees of Blades and Selb — James Eversmeyer, Woodrow Robb, Mrs. Doynne Haywood and Charles Bridges — were named in the indictment as "coconspirators but not as defendants."

More than 225 F-111s were ground after the wing broke off an F-111 at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev. last Dec. 22.

The Hope High School Madrigal Singers presented a concert of 16th century music Sunday, May 3, at 2:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The program was presented in authentic 16th century costumes with props and dialogue contributing to the old English atmosphere.

For the second half of the program the setting advanced to 20th century life and they changed to a more casual attire. They sang some traditional folk songs as well as some newer numbers with guitar accompaniment.

This program was the first in a series of National Music Week activities and the public is invited to attend.

This is Oldsmobile's year at Indy.

Isn't it your year for an Olds?

The knowing folks at Indy just named Olds 4-4-2 official pace car for this year's 500.

For good reason. Olds is not only an excellent performer, it's a winner in looks and ride as well.

The fact is, every 1970 Olds is a pacesetter and it goes far deeper than performance.

You find it in great engineering in exceptional comfort in ride and handling that are outstanding. And in the solid quality and dependability you've come to expect from Oldsmobile.

In fact, it's this quality that leads many people to believe that Olds is priced out of their reach. A mistaken notion that might keep you in an ordinary car instead of an Olds.

The truth of the matter is that many Olds models are priced right down with the low-price names.

Now that you have the facts, isn't this your year to go Oldsmobile? You can probably do so for no more than what you've been paying. See your nearest Olds dealer!

Recall of Fulbright Absurd

After 26 years of consistent support of Sen. J.W. (Bill) Fulbright your editor has turned critical—but this doesn't mean we condone or will support the absurd effort now being made to mount a recall vote. It appears to have started with "Justice Jim" Johnson, a man who squeezed the Democratic party for personal advancement, then quit it when it was apparent the turnip had no more blood to give. Fulbright has his faults, but the least that can be said of Johnson is that he has fewer virtues than the senator—a question Arkansas voters have already resolved.

Now trying to second-guess the 1968 election Johnson mounts his so-called recall campaign. He asked Attorney General Purcell for instructions on how to proceed, but not being an officer-holder Johnson was asked to make his request through the office of Kelly Bryant, secretary of state. Today Mr. Bryant advised that to effect a recall vote in this year's general election a petition requesting same must be filed with him not later than July 3—and the petition must be signed by 49,248 qualified voters, which is 8 percent of the total vote in the 1968 general election.

This editor has no intention of allying his newspaper with Jim Johnson in a "political spite" movement, and has every intention in the world of supporting Fulbright should his recall be asked in the November general election.

Our confidence in Fulbright is shaken to the point that we might refuse to support him in a regular election—but a recall vote is a different proposition.

Fulbright was endorsed by the voters in 1968—and this amounts to a solemn contract for the full six-year Senate term. The sole moral grounds for asking the recall of a duly-elected public official has to be something close to bribery, moral turpitude, or other overt acts tending to degrade him as a fit representative of the people.

A recall movement might conceivably be justified against Sen. Edward Kennedy, involved in a scandalous accident—but not against Fulbright, whose current sin is merely that his opinions and votes are running against the majority view of his constituents.

After 26 years in public office it must be conceded the people of Arkansas ought to know Bill Fulbright for what he is. They re-elected him in 1968; now in 1970 they talk about recalling him.

All this poses the question: Is it Fulbright who has changed, or is it the people of Arkansas?

But the question is irrelevant. The people have a contract with Fulbright until 1974—and people who seek to break a contract without legal cause are less honorable than the target of their displeasure, however wrong in public affairs he may be.

It is the misfortune of politics that in 1968 the Republicans put up a man for senator who made it almost impossible for any knowledgeable citizen not to vote for Fulbright. That's one of politics' tough breaks you have to put up with, just as you have to accept a bad umpire-call in sports.

In either case, the game must go on—regardless how many of the unlightened holler "Recall!"

Federal Aid to Religion May Be Near

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's approval of tax exemptions for religiously used property comes as tests of various forms of government aid to church institutions are mounting.

As Justice William J. Brennan Jr. noted Monday in a concurring opinion, tax exemptions are a far different matter from subsidies. But the top-heavy, 7-1 vote in favor of exemptions may presage high court approval of the entwining of government and religion.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger's decision for the court rejected any idea that the two spheres can be kept rigidly separate. He said the First Amendment requires a "benevolent neutrality" toward religion. In other words, government is to be neutral, but in a friendly sort of a way.

On the face of it, the doctrine appeared to alarm only one justice, William O. Douglas.

He said independence between government and religion is "the price of liberty." He said tax exemptions may seem a minor form of government involvement in religion and that he failed to see any real difference between a subsidy and a tax exemption.

Above all, Douglas warned that the court's approval could be a long step down the path toward government sponsorship of religion.

The tests will come in cases headed in the court's direction. And in one big one already there.

The latter is an appeal from Pennsylvania that directly attacks state financial aid to parochial and other private schools. The target is a 1969 Pennsylvania law. Receipts from a tax on race track admissions are used to support academic activities in parochial and secular private schools.

The Supreme Court decision was hailed, meanwhile, by Bishop Joseph L. Bernardin, general secretary of the U.S. Catholic Conference. He said it reflected "the historic American attitude which permits religious exercise without governmental interference."

Work Spur Is Welfare Reform Key

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters remain confident President Nixon's welfare reform bill will become law without undue delay despite an initial rebuff by the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee abruptly halted hearings last Friday and told the administration to rewrite the measure.

The calm in the House, which approved the bill 263 to 155 in mid-April, was reflected in comments by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. Originally skeptical, Mills became the bill's chief House manager.

"If they want the administration to increase the work incentives in the bill—and a way can be found to do it—that would be fine with me," Mills said in an interview.

He said his concern had been that the Senate would go the other way—liberalizing the family allowance provision now calculated to guarantee $1,600 a year to a family of four.

Mills has said publicly that if the cost of the measure is inflated, he will move to kill it in conference or, if necessary, recommend a veto.

The Finance Committee, considerably more conservative in makeup than the Senate itself, sent the bill back to the Health, Education and Welfare Department because of dissatisfaction with provisions to encourage welfare recipients to take job training and become self-sufficient.

But testimony last week indicated to the committee the bill would have a reverse effect on encouraging self-sufficiency.

Tabulations prepared by HEW at the insistence of Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican member of the Finance Committee, showed that in at least some cases a family would be better off if its breadwinner did not work.

Miss Allison Krause, 19, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Miss Sandy Lee Scheuer, 20, Youngstown, Ohio; Jeffrey G. Miller, 20, Plainview, N.Y., and William K. Schroeder, 19, Lorain, Ohio.

Miss Krause was hit in the left shoulder, Miss Scheuer in the neck, Schroeder in the left underside of the chest and Miller in the head.

Dr. Sybert said the final autopsy would be completed by Monday.

Kent State Closed by Fatal Riot

KENT, Ohio (AP) — An official of the Ohio Highway Patrol today disputed reports from the Ohio National Guard that a sniper was spotted by police helicopter before Guardsmen shot four Kent State University students to death Monday during an antiwar demonstration.

The university, ordered evacuated after the shooting, was virtually deserted this morning and under heavy police and military guard.

Earlier, fire destroyed a barn and several farm tractors in one corner of the campus, and fire officials said they believed the blaze was deliberately set.

Sgt. Michael Delaney of the guard public relations staff said after the shootings that, "At the approximate time of the firing on the campus," the Ohio Highway Patrol—via a helicopter—spotted a sniper on a nearby building."

Today, a patrol official, Maj. D. E. Manly, said, "There is nothing on the log on the sighting." Manly said if patrolmen in the helicopter circling the campus had seen a gunman it would have been recorded.

Guard officials claimed Monday and again today that the Guardsmen were returning the fire of a small caliber weapon in defense of their lives. A student crowd had surrounded some 30 Guardsmen and were throwing rocks and chunks of concrete at them.

The Justice Department and officials of the National Guard launched separate investigations of the gunfire outburst which took the lives of two girls and two young men.

The dead were: Miss Allison Krause, 19, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Miss Sandy Lee Scheuer, 20, Youngstown, Ohio; Jeffrey G. Miller, 20, Plainview, N.Y., and William K. Schroeder, 19, Lorain, Ohio.

$75,000 for Millwood in Red R. Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Four State delegation asked Monday that Congress exceed President Nixon's budget recommendations in voting appropriations for water projects in the Arkansas River Basin.

The delegation, including spokesmen from Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado testified before a house appropriations subcommittee. The group asked appropriations of some $95 million for projects in the four states for which the budget recommends about $75 million.

In some cases the delegation asked that projects be added to the budget list, in order that the budget—recommended amounts be increased.

Harris Bateman, of Tulsa, Chairman for the Four State Committee told the subcommittee that the funds requested are essential to an orderly development and construction program in the basin.

Bateman pointed out that the big navigation feature of the Arkansas River development program now is nearing completion.

He said the group supported the president's budget requests of $55.2 million for continued work on the Mississippi River channel navigation program and is asked another $9.4 million for badly needed features, such as power, access roads, dredging and bank stabilization.

Among other things, the group asked funds to continue studies into extending navigation on the Arkansas River upstream to Wichita, Kan., and through Central Oklahoma to the Oklahoma City area.

Bateman urged that funds be appropriated to start construction of nine reservoirs — Pine Mountain in Arkansas; Birch, Candy, Copan and Skiatook in Oklahoma; Big Hill, Cedar Point and El Dorado in Kansas and Trinidad in Colorado. None is in the budget.

$302,143 for County Youth Job Program

The Neighborhood Youth Corps will begin the Summer Program June 1, 1970, providing employment for 1,550 enrollees from low income families in 37 Arkansas counties, Lewis J. Johnson, President of Arkansas Farmers Union, announced today.

In Hempstead County 52 enrollees will be in the Program this summer. The wages earned by the youths in the Program totals $302,143.00 since 1965 when the Program began in Hempstead County.

County Judge Finis Odum with the cooperation of the school superintendents, in Hempstead County has been very active in seeing that these programs are provided for the local youth and has given all necessary support to the continuance of the Program, Clint Jones, Administrator of the Arkansas Farmers Union NYC Program said.

The Out-of-School Program for high school drop-outs operates in 24 counties with an average of 108 enrollees. Enrollees are placed in training in hospitals, schools, libraries, parks, etc. The ultimate goal is training to return to school.

Clint Jones, Administrator of the Arkansas Farmers Union NYC program for youths, said that in the 12 week, 1965 Program (the largest in the nation) over 16,000 youths were employed in 73 of the 75 counties and over five million dollars were paid in enrollee wages. Over the last five year period over 35,000 youth have participated in the Program.

The Program is administered through the Department of Labor.

Heavy Gunfire Cuts Number of Troops Put Into Cambodia

Doubt Hanoi Ability to Prolong War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some U.S. military leaders are convinced North Vietnam is under severe strain and destruction of once-secure Cambodian bases will cut deeply into Hanoi's ability to wage a three-country war.

Other analysts, however, believe the North Vietnamese can continue fighting on fronts in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos if they followed a "low key strategy."

Such strategy would involve selective attacks on U.S. and South Vietnamese bases in South Vietnam, limited operations to consolidate positions in Laos, and possibly a withdrawal deeper in Cambodia to establish new bases.

According to U.S. estimates, the North Vietnamese still have ample sources of military manpower, about 207,000 troops in the three countries, although the quality is down from what it used to be. Some experts believe North Vietnam, could, if pressed, raise another million men.

As long as the Soviet Union and Communist China are willing to pump in enough equipment, food and supplies, American analysts feel North Vietnam could sustain military operations throughout Indochina.

Top U.S. leaders strongly doubt the North Vietnamese can gear-up quickly for a heavy strike in response to the new U.S.-South Vietnamese offensive aimed at demolishing the enemy base structure in Cambodia.

The exception to this lies in the presence of some three divisions of North Vietnamese troops north of the demilitarized zone.

Hanoi is on notice that any attacks by these troops across the DMZ might bring a resumption of widespread American bombing of North Vietnam.

Timing plays a very important part in the American thinking about the Cambodian operation and its consequences.

Tanks Make First Contact With Enemy

SNOUL, Cambodia (AP) — American tanks blasted their way into the heart of this rubber plantation town tonight after encountering the first serious resistance in the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Brick and concrete houses crumbled to dust under the heavy allied guns and air strikes as the Sheridan tanks and armored personnel carriers rolled out of stands of rubber trees and into the streets.

Senior American officers at the battle site said there were an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese troops dug in, in the town and the rubber plantations around it.

The American attack began late in the afternoon when the decision was made to push ahead into the heavily populated area that sits astride Route 7, about eight miles inside the Cambodian border, and 40 miles from where the current operation in the Fishhook began last Friday morning. Snoul is the location of a key road junction, Routes 7 and 13.

According to a prisoner, several hundred North Vietnamese troops had waited in ambush for the American tank column as it moved along Route 7 into the plantations.

Helicopters Fly Troops Over Border

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops launched a third offensive into Cambodia today from the central highlands but came under such heavy fire and met such bad weather that helicopters could land but a fraction of the 6,000 men committed to the operation.

On the Fishhook front, 200 miles to the south, U.S. troops met their first serious resistance as a column of tanks blasted its way into the town of Snoul in rubber plantation country eight miles inside Cambodia.

From Pleiku, Associated Press photographer Charles Ryan, covering the new offensive 50 miles to the west, said that two companies of U.S. troops were hit by heavy small-arms fire from both sides of a clearing as helicopters tried to land them. They never made it in.

Sources said that due to the heavy ground fire and a morning haze, which set the operation back several hours, only one battalion of about 500 U.S. troops was landed.

Plans had called for at least two battalions to be airlifted in by the helicopters. The troops that did land began building a semipermanent artillery and patrol base from which to fan out.

A field officer said the better part of a U.S. Infantry brigade and a South Vietnamese regiment—estimated at 3,000 or more American troops and an equal number of South Vietnamese—were committed to the new offensive. He said it would be the largest air mobile operation in the central highlands of Pleiku in two years.

This was the second major U.S. offensive ordered by President Nixon to destroy Communist command sanctuaries and base camps.

Nixon ordered an earlier offensive to the south in the Fishhook region of Cambodia. It was launched last Friday.

The other offensive was opened last Wednesday by South Vietnamese troops accompanied by U.S. advisers, but with American air and logistics support. This offensive in the Parrot's Beak is the southernmost of the three.

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported from Snoul that brick and concrete houses crumbled to dust under American tank guns and warplanes dropping napalm and 500-pound bombs.

American officers told Arnett that there were an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese troops dug in the town of Snoul and the rubber plantations around it. The Snoul plantation is one of the biggest in Indochina.

Wednesday Is Deadline for Week-End Items

This is a special notice to clubs, churches, and other organizations sending week-end announcement stories and pictures to The Star.

All stories and pictures announcing coming events expected to be published in Friday or Saturday editions must be delivered to the newspaper office Wednesday, or postmarked Wednesday night for delivery first thing Thursday morning — or management reserves the right to omit publication.

This 48-hour deadline is employed on advertising and now we are forced to invoke it on news announcements — because organizations have gotten into the habit of waiting until Friday morning to stamp the news desk with more copy and pictures than can be handled on short notice.
